

Grading Reform: Removing Behaviors from Academic Grades

Student achievement will be reported using two different grades:

Academic Grades = student learning and mastery of Nevada Academic Content Standards

Learner Behaviors/Citizenship = student learning and mastery of habits of work and employability skills

Why change?

Lowering a grade because a student is disruptive, turns in work late, or doesn't participate in class does not give a clear picture of their academic achievement and progress.

What to expect?

More accurate academic grades based only on your child's learning of state standards not their behaviors; more precise information to help with academic or behavioral supports.
